Section 1. Purpose and Scope

These rules apply to all examinations of Northgate Sample University (NSU), an imaginary institution created only to test software. Grading and attendance rules are in the Academic Regulations.

Section 2. Assessment Components

Each course is assessed as follows: sessional work 25 percent, midterm examination 25 percent, final examination 50 percent.

Component	Weight
Sessional work (quizzes, assignments)	25 percent
Midterm examination	25 percent
Final examination	50 percent

Section 3. Examination Schedule

The midterm examinations are held in week 8 of the semester. The final examinations are held in week 16.

Event	When
Midterm examinations	Week 8
Final examinations	Week 16
Date sheet published	2 weeks before the examinations
Results published	Within 10 working days after the last final examination

Section 4. Eligibility to Sit

A student may sit the final examination of a course only if the attendance requirement in the Academic Regulations is met and the semester fees are paid in full.

Section 5. Conduct in the Examination Hall

Students must bring their university identity card. Mobile phones and other electronic devices are not allowed in the examination hall. A student found using unfair means receives zero marks in that course.

- Students must arrive at least 15 minutes before the examination starts.
- A student who arrives more than 30 minutes after the start is not allowed to enter.
- A student may not leave the hall during the first 30 minutes.
- Students must write only on the answer book provided by the invigilator.

Section 6. Unfair Means

Unfair means include copying, passing information, bringing prohibited material and impersonation. A first offence results in zero marks in the course. A repeated offence results in suspension for one semester.

Section 7. Make-up Examinations

A student who misses an examination for a documented medical reason may apply for a make-up examination. The application with supporting documents must be submitted within 3 working days of the missed examination.

Section 8. Result Review

A student may request a review of a final examination result within 7 days of result publication. The review fee is 1,000 SCU, refunded if the result changes. A review checks the addition of marks and whether every answer was marked; it does not re-mark answers.

Section 9. Special Accommodations

A student with a documented disability may request extra time of 25 percent in examinations. The request must be made to the Examination Section at least one week before the examinations begin.

Section 10. Grade Improvement

There is no separate improvement examination. A student who wants a better grade in a course with a D or F repeats the course as described in the Academic Regulations.

Section 11. Answer Books and Rough Work

Students write only in the answer book provided by the invigilator. Rough work is done on the last pages of the answer book and crossed out. Extra paper is not allowed. Additional answer books are issued by the invigilator on request.

Section 12. Invigilation and Seating

There is one invigilator for every 25 students. The seating plan is displayed 30 minutes before each examination. Invigilators may ask to see a student's identity card at any time.

Section 13. Emergencies During an Examination

If an examination is interrupted by an emergency such as a fire alarm, students leave the hall in order and leave their answer books on the desks. When the examination resumes, students receive extra time equal to the time lost. The invigilator writes an incident report.

Section 14. Absence Without a Valid Reason

A student who is absent from an examination without a documented reason receives zero marks for that component. No make-up examination is given.

Section 15. Practical Examinations and Viva

Practical examinations are held in week 15. Lab attendance rules in the Academic Regulations apply. A viva examination lasts about 10 minutes per student.

Section 16. Results and Transcripts

Results are published on the student portal. Grades become final after the 7-day review period ends. Transcripts are issued by the Examination Section within 5 working days after the transcript fee is paid.

Section 17. Frequently Asked Questions

What if two of my examinations are at the same time? Report the clash to the Examination Section at least 3 working days before the examinations. One paper is rescheduled on the same day.

What if I forget my identity card? The Examination Section can issue a temporary slip if the student shows a photo identity document. A temporary slip can be issued only once per semester.

How are results announced? Results are published on the student portal within 10 working days after the last final examination.
